Dear Gordon,

Mme. Doria of Mame told me that you sent her a few more illustrations for my book "La Force du Quotidien" and that she is a waiting even some more. Good for you. I did not go further into the matter, because I did not want to complicate things. But please send me immediately the copies of the drawings I did not see. Also, as the book is going to be published also in Canada, and possibly the States and Germany as well, and since the Brazilian edition is well under way, we shall need quite an amount of copies for the illustrations to be used in those various places. Write me fully about this.

I am very glad to have those drawings included in the book, but fear the additional cost of the printing. Also I do not want the editions to be delayed. Therefore please stay in close touch with me, as well as with Mme. Doria.

We finally arrived at our provisional destination. I am starting to write again on my next book, for which I may also need your collaboration. Why don't you call us up some of these days?

Best lick to you and your family, also from Edith
